DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claims 1-20 are objected to because of the following informalities:

In independent claims 1, 12, and 20, the term "capable of" is used to indicate the capability of performing a given function by the first and/or second station. The term "capable of" suggest or make the limitations following optional but does not requires the steps to be performed. See MPEP 2111.04 [R-3]. According to MPEP 2111.4 Claim scope is not limited by claim language that suggests or makes optional but does not require steps to be performed, or by claim language that does not limit a claim to a particular structure. Therefore appropriate correction is required.

Double Patenting

2. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

3. Claims 1-4, 8-14, 16, 18, 19 and 20 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 12-22 of U.S. Patent No. 7,274,707. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because:

As to claims 1-4, 11-14 and 20, the difference between these claims and patented claims 12-22, is that patented claims do not specify a distributed coordination function for the data transmitted by the second station. However, since the second station transmit during a contention sub-period, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use distributed coordination function as dictated by 802.11 standard. The advantage would be the implementation of DCF during contention and PCF (point coordination function) so to comply with the established wireless LAN Protocols.

As to claims 8, 9, 10, 16-19. Examiner takes official notice that the limitations in these claims are standard feature of the wireless LAN standards. It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the signaling feature as recited in the claims so to comply with the established IEEE 802.11 specification standards.

Art Unit: 2616

4. Claims 5-7 and 15 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 12 of U.S. Patent No. 7,274,707 in view of Young et al, US 6,990,116.

Regarding claims 5-7 and 15, patented claim 12 does not specify the access point dynamically adjusts the duration of the sub-contention period (as in claim 5 and 15), or adjusting the duration of the sub-contention period based on respective bandwidth requirements of the first and second stations (as in claim 6) or respective numbers of devices using the first and the second modulation schemes, as in claim 7.

However, Young discloses having the access point dynamically adjust the appropriate access mechanism (DCF or PCF) (point coordination function or Distributed coordination function) based on load conditions, including the number of stations, see column 8, lines 47-67 and column 9, lines 1-10, see also figure 6. It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to add the adjust the contention sub-period of claim 12 of the patent as taught by Young so shape the traffic and to increase the throughput of applicant system.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments, see Remarks, filed 12/28/2007, with respect to claims 1, 12, and 20 have been fully considered and are persuasive. The rejections of claims 1, 12 and 20 under Young in view APA (Admitted Prior Art) have been withdrawn.

Art Unit: 2616

Also the Amendment to claims 1, 12 and 20 overcame the 112 second paragraph rejections.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure See Form PTO 892.
